The closing exercises of the Halawa English school, on Molokai, took place last Wednesday and Thursday. Mr. H. van Giesen is principal and Mr. Sol Fuller assistant. The exercises concluded with lucas and balls on both evenings.

The Banana Trade.

VICTORIA, July 11.—In connection with the new Australian steamship service Wilson Brothers have been appointed agents for British Columbia and Washington for Campbell, Marshall & Co. of Honolulu, dealers in bananas, who ship on an average 2000 bunches to San Francisco by each steamer. Wilson Brothers received 600 bunches by the Warrimoo, 150 of which will be sold here and the rest go to Portland and the mainland.

Will Serve Her Sentence.

At the last term of the circuit court a foreign jury brought in a verdict of guilty in the case of Mrs. Machado, charged with the larceny of $890. She was sentenced to eighteen months hard labor and a fine of $400. The case was appealed to the supreme court on a technicality. On Saturday a decision was handed down sustaining the lower court.

Gives Satisfaction.

The appointment of A. Murray Beattie as Hawaiian consul is a wise one, and will no doubt find favor with the citizens, as well as with those captains and others sailing under the Hawaiian flag who may have business to do with the consulate. The Provisional government will have no reason to regret its choice of a representative.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

ON KOOLAU'S TRAIL!

NOTHING CAN SAVE THE MURDEROUS LEPER!

A Man Hunter Outlines His Plan of Action and is Confident of Success.

A. R. Bindt is a youth who is well known about town. Unfortunately he is a cripple, so he was compelled to ride a horse. This fact is mentioned merely so the readers of the ADVERTISER can call him to mind. Young Bindt has a scheme on foot, and if he is successful he will make the members of the Larsen expedition grow green with envy. This is the story: When the expedition returned from Koolau valley without bringing the body of Koolau, the hero of this story made a bet with himself that he could accomplish what an army could not, so he hid himself to the police station in search of information.

He met Captain Juen who gave him the necessary points. At the time Juen did not think the youth was in earnest, but on the contrary, he thought Bindt was, to use an inelegant term, "talking through his face."

Later in the day the boy proved he was in earnest, as he departed for Koolau, ostensibly to work in a plantation store, but in reality to capture Koolau and the 1000 Kalakau dollars offered by the government.

Before his departure, which was on last Tuesday, he informed Juen that a young friend named Harry Gregson would go later to reinforce him. History does not say whether Gregson has gone or not.

Bindt has a plan that will surely land Koolau, that is if he can get within a mile of the leper. In short it is to start an illicit distillery in the Koolau valley, and after he makes divers gallons of that fascinating drink known as "okole-hao," to ask the murderer to partake of it. When he is helpless from the effects of the liquor then Bindt would tie his feet and hands and then bundle him off to jail. A similar proposition was advanced by a genius while Larsen was at Koolau. The idea was to place some poison in a large bottle of gin and then give it to Koolau, but the wise heads of the camp said it would be a shame to waste good "square-face" in that manner.

The rest of the story is told in Bindt's own words. The following letter was received yesterday by Captain Juen:

WAIMEA, KAUAI, July 20, 1893. Capt. Juen, Police Station, Honolulu:—

Arrived here Thursday and fell in with Arthur Hunt. He was in Koolau on guard duty. He says it would be impossible to get into the valley without being seen, so I have formed another plan.

Put me and who I shall choose to assist me above the law for three months so we can go to Koolau and start a okolehao mill, and by George I if we don't get Koolau on a "bunse" I am a liar!

If you have a small distillery on hand send it down.

If you come down come under disguise and don't let any one know your plans.

If you don't come please write and give me orders.

As we will be outlaws as well as Koolau, we will be able to get the drop on him.

If you write put the letter in one envelope with my address on it and seal it and put in another envelope addressed A. Hunt, Waima, Kauai.

If you don't come ask Ben if he will be willing to advance a little money till I return to Honolulu.

On my scheme I bet my life. I will catch him before August 31st.

If the reporters ask you if you have heard from me tell them, no.

Keep my plans in your own head and don't let them out.

If you come down I will meet you at the wharf. For a sign when you shake hands just step on my foot.

Give me a guarantee from the marshal that I will receive the reward if I capture Koolau dead or alive. Your obedient servant, A. R. BINDT.

To Succeed Father Damien.

A successor to Father Damien has arisen in the person of Pere Sauton, a Benedictine monk, who has been commissioned by the French government to study up leprosy. He will visit leprosy districts in Norway, Lapland, Finland, Turkey, Greece and Egypt, afterward returning to France to report the result of his investigations to M. Pasteur. Subsequently he is to set out to Molokai, in the Sandwich Islands, where he will remain for a time.—Ex.

Low Fares at Last.

The long-expected competition between the various railway lines leading to Chicago commenced about July 1st. There are six lines from the Pacific coast to Chicago. The Canadian Pacific has issued the following schedule of fares:

New York and Philadelphia	$53.60
Boston, Springfield, Mass.	54.80
Toronto, Detroit and common points	44.90
Buffalo, N. Y.	46.85
Halifax, N. S.	67.60
Chicago (first class)	48.60
Chicago (second class)	41.40
St. Paul (first class)	40.00
St. Paul (second class)	32.50

These prices are for first-class cars, except as named, and include berths and meals, from San Francisco to end of route.

The fares on the Great Northern and the Atchison and Denver companies are about the same as the above, but do not include meals and berths.

A great reduction has also taken place on some of the eastern railroads, but the fares have not yet been published.

The Northern Market.

The feature of the market today was the arrival from Honolulu of about 1000 bunches of bananas and a quantity of pineapples. The fruit was brought to Victoria on the Warrimoo, and has arrived here in good condition so far as yet ascertained. Bananas are now quoted from $2 to $3. Firsts must have at least eight hands, and some of them run as high as twelve hands. Those bunches with less hands than eight are sold as seconds, their difference being simply one of size, and the price of a bunch depends upon its size, which determines the number of bananas in it. Pineapples are quoted at $1.75 to $2 per dozen, wholesale.—Seattle paper.

Association Review.

The Association Review, published by the Y. M. C. A. of Honolulu, has been issued for the current month. The Review is a new number containing a resume of local topics, together with a longer article on the association's work for the coming year, as outlined by the new secretary, Mr. D. W. Corbett. A list of the members in the Honolulu association is also printed, showing a membership of something over 200. The association is in a flourishing condition.

Mr. Young's Marriage.

The marriage of Alexander Young Jr. of Honolulu and Miss Blanche Evans, the youngest daughter of Mrs. Jane B. Evans, was solemnized at the residence of the bride, 1225 Chestnut street, Oakland, Thursday, July 6th, at 10:30 o'clock, Rev. E. P. Dennitt officiating. The bride is well-known in Alameda circles. A few hours after the ceremony the bride and groom departed for Honolulu on the steamer Australia, where they will reside.—S. F. Chronicle.

A Coffee Specialist.

Mr. H. Clarkson Cloud was a passenger yesterday by the barkentine Irmgard. He is a coffee specialist, having been for many years engaged on coffee plantations in Mexico and Guatemala. Mr. Cloud will visit the coffee plantations on Hawaii, but is at present undecided whether he will locate here or not.

Commended.

Several letters have been received in Honolulu lately which speak in the highest terms of the service and attention paid passengers by the new steamer route to British Columbia. The table set on two steamers is said to be the best in the Pacific.

The Volcano Road.

John Moore is now in charge of the volcano road. With the exception of one mile, the road is completed to the bullock pen. W. W. Bruner, who has been superintending the work for some time, left on the Australia Wednesday for San Francisco.

The Admiral is All Right.

Commodore George Brown, known better in this city as Admiral Brown, has successfully passed the physical examination for promotion to the admiralship, and in a few days will take the professional examination.

MAUI NEWS.

A Two Day's Convention at Wailuku.

MAUI, July 22.—At 10 A. M. Thursday, the 21st inst., the first day of the second meeting of the Maui teachers' association had a beginning in the Wailuku school hall, which was still gayly decorated with its reception day bunting. After calling the assembly to order, President H. S. Townsend delivered an inaugural address enthusiastic in the cause of teaching and strongly recommending local circles with courses of reading for teachers as a means of perpetuating the interest and increasing the benefit to be derived from the present association. Miss M. R. Nape of the Makawao school then gave a short but interesting exposition of her methods in teaching language to beginners.

This address was followed by J. A. Moore on "Methods of Teaching English to Hawaiians." Mr. Moore's words were carefully listened to and excited a good deal of debate, as to the benefit to be derived by the pupils in the use of diagrams in the analysis of sentences.

He illustrated the method by sending a class of his pupils to the blackboard, and if their neat and accurate work did not convince the opponents of the system, at least it won their admiration. After lunch, at 1 P. M. Miss E. Mordon of the Makawao school in a clear and concise way explained the first step in the tonic sol fa method, and at the request of Mr. W. C. Crook made the convention sing "doh, me, sol" using the signs made by the hand. Mr. Crook afterwards introduced a simple song by the same method.

In the absence of W. E. Saffery of Lahaina the talk on reading was omitted. Then followed a report by J. L. Dumas in regard to an educational journal for the islands. He was encouraged by the receipt of letters from teachers on the other islands strongly advocating the plan.

The following motion was carried that the president of the association appoint one teacher for each district throughout the islands to take the matter in hand, and arouse as much enthusiasm as possible within their respective localities. After some talk about diagrams, the meeting adjourned.

The attendance during the day exceeded fifty, most of the Hana teachers being prevented from attending, as the school agent felt that he could not consistently permit them to close school two days earlier than the appointed time without any official notice to that effect. Prof. and Mrs. G. W. Babb, of Kamehameha, were among the visitors present.

At 10 A. M. on Friday the meeting was again called to order, and Mr. H. Dickinson, of Lahaina, one of the most successful teachers of the tonic sol fa, gave his views concerning the teaching of music in government schools. He stated that 86 per cent. of the teachers in England and Wales used the tonic method, and out of 500 New Jersey teachers consulted, 499 of them endorsed the system.

He illustrated his ideas very clearly by dividing the convention into four parts which sang the soprano, alto, tenor and bass of a song written on the blackboard. This event was greeted with much pleasure and interest.

At 10:40 Miss M. de Carmo of the Paia school, in a pleasing way, showed to those present the three simple principles of penmanship now in use in Hawaiian schools. She also exhibited a triangular bit of cardboard which would aid the pupils much in giving the correct slant to the letters.

The subject of common fractions was illustrated on the blackboard by Benj. Kahoopai, of Hana, by diagrams, applied examples, explanations and statements. His neat work on the board was worthy of commendation and imitation.

At 1 P. M. Miss R. E. Crook, of the Paia school, spoke upon "School Discipline," advocating strongly self-control on the part of the teacher, and explained the marking system now used successfully in her classroom. Her remarks were well received.

Mr. J. L. Dumas, in his address on "Elements of Physical Science," advocated simple lessons on the human body for beginners, to be followed by teaching ideas of form, size, color, composition, etc. Plants and animals should be introduced in a systematic way—especially those most often encountered. He most enthusiastically advocated object lessons, but upon those objects which the pupil himself could bring into the classroom, could handle, pull to pieces and describe.

A vote of thanks was passed to those who had taken part in the exercises. It was then decided that the convention meet once a year; that local circles for improvement be established in the different districts; that "Browning's Educational Theories" be adopted as a standard; and that the next general meeting should be held in Wailuku.

After the reading of the secretary's report by Miss Mossman, the meeting adjourned subject to the call of the executive committee.

The teachers were generally much pleased with the convention and are most grateful to their Wailuku and Waihee friends who so hospitably entertained them.

STRAY SCRIBBLINGS.

Mr. Willow Baldwin departed last Saturday for Makawao to resume his old position.

The Makawao school closed on Monday, the 17th, in the presence of a large number of parents and friends. W. A. Kiba, Esq., of Kauai, and John Kalama, Esq., addressed the pupils. Mrs. Awana entertained most of the guests by a well appointed luau at her residence.

The Haiku school in charge of Mr. Charles Baldwin and Peter Noa held rhetorical in the Haiku church. A large attendance, a luau and speeches by Rev. Kuia and others were among the events.

The Wailuku school under the direction of J. A. Moore, Misses Cunningham, Rogers and Akana, had its reception day on Wednesday. Crowds of people visited the different rooms in which the exercises were held.

The Waihee school exhibited a most elaborate programme, a Columbian piece, which caused the introduction of thirty costumes. The teachers of this institution are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Dumas, Misses Hadley and Horner.

The Paia school, which had its final day on Wednesday, was complimented by the attendance of a large number of parents and friends. Among the latter were eight teachers. The teachers in charge are Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Crook, Misses R. E. Crook and M. de Carmo.

T. H. Davies & Co.'s Wailuku store, managed by T. J. McLaughlin, has removed to more spacious quarters in the post office building. Their opening day occurs on the 27th instant.

A party consisting of Mrs. T. F. Lansing of Honolulu, Miss Fraser, Messrs. Dickey, Lindsey and Ketchum, visited Haleakala yesterday. This was the third party of the week.

A pleasant little social gathering in honor of the visiting teachers was held at Sheriff Chillingworth's on Thursday evening. There was dancing and a pleasing lunch.

Mr. Benson of Honolulu is looking after Maui pianos.

Mr. E. R. Biven has for the present adopted the insurance business. The Kamehameha school boys who have recently returned to Maui make a good impression by their neat appearance and mannerly behavior.

At the Makawao polo tournament last Saturday L. von Tempisky's quartette of players vanquished the other two fours under the leadership of R. von Tempisky and L. F. Hughes.

It is reported that the Kahului race track will be extended to a circular mile before next Fourth.

Pilot English's steam launch is expected at Kahului by the 1st of August.

W. O. Aiken is the new deputy tax collector for Makawao district.

Weather: The usual summer winds, heat and dust, with a little rain on the highlands.

VICTORIOUS CRESCENTS.

The Students Lose for the First Time this Season.

The Kamehamehas met with their first defeat this season on Saturday, when the Crescents club took the game by a score of 8 to 4.

The students had several new men in the field in place of regular players who have left the city to spend the school vacation. The Crescents had one new man, Tom Pryce, who was placed at right field. He did excellent work.

The Crescents went to bat first, and scored five times. They maintained the lead until the end.

A fair sized audience witnessed the game, and the Hawaiian band, as usual, played enlivening airs at intervals.

SCORE BY INNINGS.

Crescents.....5 0 0 0 1 1 1 0 0-8
Kamehameha.....0 0 0 0 1 3 0 0 0-4

Registration of Brands.

Within the limit fixed for the registration of brands, July 1, 1893, under the new law, there have been 361 re-registrations for the island of Oahu. The total number of applications to date, including the above number, is over 400.

Wilder Is Recognized.

At San Francisco on the 11th inst. Collector of Customs Wise was instructed to recognize temporarily the recent appointed Hawaiian Consul-General, C. T. Wilder, pending the issue of his exequatur.

Dividend Declared.

The American Sugar Company paid a quarterly dividend of 3 per cent. on common stock and 14 per cent. on preferred stock on the 3d instant.

Vote of Thanks.

Captain Schmidt and the chief officer of the crack barkentine Irmgard have the thanks of the ADVERTISER for late San Francisco papers.

THE ASH FAMILY.

They Make a Hit at the Opera House.

There was a fair attendance at the opera house on Saturday evening, the occasion being a concert given for the benefit of the widow of the late L. H. Stolz. W. B. Ash directed the affair and much credit is due him and Professor Berger for the success of the evening. The programme as advertised was carried out and a number of local favorites won fresh laurels. Miss Nolte sang two ballads very sweetly, followed by Professor Libornio who played a solo on the saxophone. He did it so well that the audience loudly encouraged him. The local minstrel, George Rittman, sang two capital songs to the evident satisfaction of the audience. Mr. Ordway contributed solos on the mandolin with guitar and violin accompaniment. He received merited applause.

Mr. Booth sang a tenor solo in a pleasing manner. One of the hits of the evening was made by little Della Ash. She is but four years of age. She sang a song like an old stager and was not frightened in the least degree. She was rewarded with a pretty basket of flowers.

The programme concluded with a musical act in which Mr. and Mrs. Ash took part. They played on many different instruments and won immediate favor for their efforts. During the evening the Hawaiian orchestra played three overtures in an artistic manner.

1. Overture—"Enchantment"..... Herman Hawaiian Orchestra.
2. "Irish Specialties"..... Geldon W. Ash.
3. Song—"Forbidden Music"..... Miss Nolte.
4. Saxophone solo—"Carnival of Venice"..... Prof. Libornio.
5. "Say, how much does the baby weigh?"..... Della Ash (4 years old).
6. Banjo and Song..... (Selected) Mr. George Rittman.
7. "Carleita Walte"..... Millieher Hawaiian Orchestra.
8. Solo on Glassophone—"Marguerite"..... Mrs. W. B. Ash.
9. Song—"Pauline"..... Maywood Mr. C. W. Booth.
10. Mandolin and Guitar..... (Selected) Messrs. Ordway and Blanchard.
11. Medley—"Popular Airs"..... Colt Hawaiian Orchestra.

To conclude with a Comic Musical Act, introducing ten instruments, by Mr. and Mrs. W. Ash.

"Hawaii Ponoi."

ASSISTED BY RELATIONS.

Koolau is Said to be in Either Mana or Waimea.

Mr. George N. Wilcox, ex-sheriff of Kauai, arrived yesterday morning from that island. He states that word had been received from the natives in Koolau valley to the effect that Koolau, the leper, had not been seen since the soldiers left the valley.

Mr. Wilcox is of the opinion that the leper is secreted in the woods in either Mana or Waimea. It is supposed that he receives food from his relatives, of which he has many.

The ex-sheriff feels certain that the large reward offered by the government will secure the arrest of the hunted man within a few weeks.

Regarding the supposed additional reward offered by people on Kauai, Mr. Wilcox says he has heard nothing about it.

WAY FROM SEATTLE.

Shipment of Oats and Other Cereals to Follow.

SEATTLE, July 13.—An experimental shipment of eighty-five bales of hay was made to Honolulu yesterday by Lilly, Bogardus & Co. The shipment was ordered from the islands, and will no doubt prove of such success that a steady trade will follow. An order was placed with the agent of the Hawaiian fruit shippers by J. W. Goodwin & Co., commission men, for 200 bunches of bananas on every steamer of the Canadian-Australian line. Two hundred bunches were received by the firm yesterday and large consignments were received by other houses. The Hawaiian fruit trade is already assuming proportions in Seattle, and has every indication of being permanent. Shipments of oats and other cereals will be made later on by the new steamship line, as soon as the new crops are in.
